

Mr. Yanapol Khawponsri

Food and Drug Administration, Thailand

Mr. Yanapol Khawponsri is an expert on food standards at the Food and Drug Administration. He holds a Bachelor of Science in Agricultural Industry, a Bachelor of Law, a Bachelor of Health Sciences in Thai Traditional Medicine, and a Master of Public Administration. Throughout his career, Mr. Yanapol has gained extensive experience in food regulation and supervision. He has worked in the Food Division, overseeing post-marketing product supervision, and previously served as Head of the Pre-marketing Approval Sub-division. Currently, he specializes in food regulations under the Food Act B.E. 2522, providing expert guidance on compliance and safety standards. His multidisciplinary education and practical expertise make him a valuable resource in the field of food safety and regulatory affairs