

Prof. Dr. Tufan Eroldogan

Faculty of Fisheries, Department of Aquaculture, Cukurova University, Turkey

Dr. Tufan Eroldogan is Professor of Nutrition and Aquaculture and is based at the Faculty of Fisheries, Department of Aquaculture, Cukurova University, Turkey. Currently, he is the founder of consulting company called in “AquaSpin”.

Dr. Eroldogan was awarded a Post Doc. Researcher positions in Israel, Norway and Spain. His research interests span from fish nutrition to food quality, lipids, fatty acid metabolism, micronutrients in aquafeed, feed quality and stress resistance. Throughout his career, Dr. Eroldogan has published extensively and has engaged in several research activities funded by both governmental agencies and private industries with several national and international collaborators. Over past 25 years he has been working on marine fish and shrimp larvae nutrition. Dr. Eroldogan involved in national and international research projects, and has more than 100 publications.